LATE RETURNS
INCREASE SIZE
OF DEM. VICTORYRoosevelt Will Have the
Complete Control
Of Congress

BULLETIN

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Associated Press returns from 106,283 districts out of 119,714 today gave the popular vote for President.

Roosevelt, 20,167,060.
Hoover, 14,184,867.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Their victory swelling with every additional return on Tuesday's tremendous vote, America's new Democratic leaders faced today four months of arduous preparation for the responsibility of piloting the government.

A free hand in directing the country was given President-elect Roosevelt by election of a House three-to-one Democratic and a Senate controlled by his party, 59 to 36. This smashing victory only emphasized the significance of his never-before attained electoral vote of 472 to 59 over President Hoover.

The popular vote kept mounting toward record figures with 19,600,000 recorded for the winner out of more than 33,000,000 counted in approximately three-fourths of the country's voting districts.

Under this amazing grant of power, Roosevelt expressed his appreciation by saying "this clear mandate shall not be forgotten."

He termed it "a national expression of liberal thought."

To Build Machine

Already he has informed the congressional leaders of his party that the time from now until March 4 will be devoted to creating the machinery required for the Democratic program. He is to choose also a cabinet, a major task in which his associates say he may break one more precedent by announcing his make up considerably before inauguration.

He proposes to continue intensive consultation with experts on industry, agriculture and finance, formulating definite projects to bring into play the principles he expounded during the campaign.

The Democratic grip on the new Congress did not extend to winning control of the Senate for the immediate short session. A sudden spurt in the late voting counting on the part of Republican Senator W. Warren Barbour of New Jersey brought him safely past his Democratic opponent, Percy H. Stewart, to whom at one time he had conceded defeat. The seat is to be occupied this session, just as is the one in Colorado where Republican Karl C. Schuyler was holding a narrow lead. Should he win the Republicans would hold 48 seats for the remainder of the old Congress, to 47 Democrats and one farmer-labor.

G. O. P. Ranks Riddled

But so many fell in the election for next term that Republican ranks were riddled and decimated, with nearly all of the "old guard" leaders ousted. With but two dozen House races in doubt, the present Republican strength of 150 House had been slashed by one hundred, giving the Democrats the certainty of more than 300 votes.

The Governors' races told much the same tale. Including four seats not at stake in this year's elections, the G. O. P. held but nine Governors' chairs definitely, with a slight chance in one or two others.

With the Democratic sweep of Congress appeared to have come such anti-prohibition majorities that the hope of immediate legislation of beer, held by ardent wet, climbed high, and several key men in Congress hastened to add their voices to those who have already spoken for accomplishing this modification of the Volstead act during the winter.

Socialists were counting up the total of their candidate, Norman Thomas, who termed his own defeat a victory. A scant third of the country heard from his popular vote was nearing 400,000, with a strong possibility he would pass the record set for his party by Eugene Debs, in 1920, with 920,000.

The election hardly over, the bitterness and hard words of the campaign were being rapidly forgotten, covered under assurances of the losers that there would be no obstruction of any sound democratic program.

CALL IN LEE CO.
BEGINS TOMORROWSome Of Organization's
Local Relief Work
Is Made Public

The annual nation-wide Roll Call for Members of the American Red Cross starts tomorrow and ends November 24th. Almost daily everyone receives appeals of all kinds, but it must be remembered the American Red Cross is the nation's agency of mercy to those who suffer. If you are not a member of this worthy organization, we urge that this year you take out a membership which is $1. Cards, letter and buttons will be mailed from headquarters at the Dixon Chamber of Commerce in a few days, and if you do not happen to receive one, just stop in the Chamber of Commerce office and your membership card will be given you.

The Lee County Chapter of the American Red Cross has done very creditable work this last year, as the files of the Home Service Secretary, Albert Ruggles shows that through the cooperation of the Spanish American War Veterans, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 151 cases for ex-service men have been handled. Hospitalized 40 ex-service men in Veterans' hospitals and assisted in getting awards of increases in pension and compensation to the amount of $689.00 per month. A number of families have been given clothing by the chapter.

Flour Distributed

Then through the American Emergency Relief organization, 250 barrels of Red Cross flour has been distributed in Dixon and Lee County at no cost to the community. It appears that we will have at least 250 barrels more of this coming winter. The Cotton Distribution Committee of Lee County, appointed by Chairman Robert Sterling and under the leadership of Mrs. Ida McCleary as Chairman, has undertaken the gigantic task of furnishing the necessary clothing for our needy; the necessary cloth to be made into clothing and ready made garments will be furnished our needy. The necessary cloth known as "Red Cross" is distributed by the American National Red Cross without expense to the community. Chairman Sterling of the local chapter has summed up the national organization's relief activities during the past year as follows:

To prevent suffering in this period of unemployment and general economic depression, the Red Cross has made widespread distribution of wheat, flour, clothing, medicine and other supplies. More than 2,000 chapters have participated in community relief programs.

Approximately 15,000,000 persons, residing in every state in the Union have received flour through the Red Cross, while clothing needs of tens of thousands of distressed families have been supplemented by the organization's present cloth and clothing distribution program. The task of converting government wheat and cotton into flour and garments was assigned to the Red Cross this year by Congress.

Carrying Big Load

After three years as the official national relief agency, the American Red Cross finds itself in 1932 carrying the largest peacetime load in its history.

Ninety-five disasters—in addition to unemployment—commanded the relief facilities of the organization during the last fiscal year, according to the Red Cross report which shows 62 disasters visited the continental United States and 28 struck insular possessions during the fiscal year. Five foreign disasters were of sufficient severity to bring help from the American Red Cross. Altogether the agency extended assistance to 486,000 victims of disaster during the 12 month period. This figure does not include the millions reduced to dependency as a result of economic conditions. Since 1881, the date of its founding, disaster relief has been outstanding among Red Cross activities, and a continuous state of preparedness has been maintained. Although it is sometimes necessary to issue a national call for disaster relief funds, the great bulk of relief work is supported—as are other Red Cross services—wholly by membership dues forthcoming during the membership campaign.

Final plans for Roll Call here in Dixon are being completed this week and those directing the community-wide appeal have expressed the belief that the membership quota will be reached or exceeded in a comparatively brief period.

Of the seven there are lawyers, two are bankers, one is a contractor, and one is a publisher. All are Democrats.

When they take office at Springfield all but one of the state's elective executive positions will be occupied by Democrats. The eighth position is that of Superintendent of Schools, held by Francis G. Blair, Charleston, a Republican, who has occupied the office since 1906. He was not up for re-election Tuesday.

Gov.-elect Henry Horner, Chicago, is a bachelor, member of the bar, has served as judge of the Probate Court of Cook county for 18 years, and is 53 years old.

Fifteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren, together with other more distant relatives and a host of friends survive to mourn her passing. Funeral services will be conducted from the McDonald home Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30 with interment in Oakwood.

Wife Of A Former
Dixon Man Is Dead

Word was received in Dixon today from Mrs. E. S. Miller of Berkeley, Calif., of the death on Nov. 3 of Mrs. Harold Miller of San Jose, Calif. She was here on a visit from Venezuela, South America, with her parents in San Jose. The family have been living in Venezuela for four years where Mr. Miller is manager for the Shell Petroleum Corporation. He is enroute to the United States by boat at the present time, and will take a plane at New York for the west coast. Harold Miller is the son of E. S. Miller, formerly of Dixon. For many years he made his home with his grandmother, Mrs. Hiram Hettler in Dixon. Mrs. George March and Mrs. George Hawley are his aunts.

Must Read Papers
To Learn Of Fate

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—So far as the government is concerned Roosevelt and Garner had to find out they're elected by reading the papers.

In all the multitude of formal requirements laid down by the fathers, there is not a line providing for notifying the President and Vice President-elect of their fortunes.

Sensors and Representatives get told very officially. Party nominees hear all about it. Appointees to office get a formal paper, but President-elect and Vice-President-elect receive no official word.

Elected To House
Without A Speech

Belleville, Ill., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Candidates who talked themselves hoarse during the campaign might reasonably envy Edwin M. Schaefer, Democratic Congressman-elect from the Illinois Twenty-second District.

Schaefer did not make a single speech, yet he was elected by a large majority. He had been nominated only Sunday night to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman Charles A. Karch.

DIXON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE'S
REPORTS GIVENInteresting Meeting
Of Board Was Held
Wednesday Eve

Last evening the directors of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce held their November meeting. A number of interesting projects were brought up for discussion, and a very encouraging financial report was read and accepted. Under communications, a letter from Rev. Gilbert Stansell of the Methodist church thanking the Chamber of Commerce for assistance during the Rock River Conference October 12-15 was read; also a letter of appreciation from A. H. Lancaster, Chairman of the District Regional Welfare Conference expressing appreciation of the assistance rendered in arranging for the Dixon meeting. A message from H. I. Harriman, President of the United States Chamber of Commerce, urging the local Chamber of Commerce to get back to the National Red Cross Roll, was reported. This work has already been planned and lined up for this coming week.

At the request of the Chairman of Blackhawk Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, John Ralston, desk room in the Chamber of Commerce office was arranged for the Field Executive and Scout Executive, in order that these men may have some kind of a clearing house and a place where they may be reached from time to time.

A motion was passed that the Chamber of Commerce give assistance to the judging team from the agriculture department of the local high school in sending them to Kansas City to enter the National Contest, which takes place this month. This team has done very creditable work in judging and if they win, it means very fine publicity for Dixon. A number of industrial projects were brought up for discussion, and in the near future representatives from a concern will visit Dixon to look over the town as a prospective location.

The contest started when Elmer Williams of Kewanee, Ill., the 1925 national champion set off two giant firecrackers. Walter Johansen of Ottawabon County, Iowa, arrived just in time. He was snowbound in Iowa for two hours yesterday, he said, and had to complete the trip by railroad.

The crowd circulated in among the huskers, but judges who watched for any ears of corn that might be overlooked by the huskers and thus lower their scores, kept them from interference.

The championship, carrying with it a little gold—$100 to be exact—and much glory, was decided on freeness of the corn from husks as well as the amount picked and the number of ears overlooked.

"Tunnel Of Dead"
Explains Legend

Oaxaca City, Mexico, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The exploration of an ancient "tunnel of the dead" under Monte Alban today was apparently helped solve a Zapotec legend of miracle armies that appeared or disappeared at will.

The legend is that more than 500 years ago, during the Mixtec-Zapotec wars for control of this section of Mexico, there were many battles around Monte Alban, the center of Zapotecan culture.

The tale relates that the Zapotec armies, when hard pressed, often disappeared as if by magic and reappeared at the enemy's rear or wherever convenient to surprise him.

Dr. Alfonso Caso, government archaeologist, discovered the "tunnel of the dead" early this week, his third such discovery in recent months.

President Leaves
Palo Alto Friday

Palo Alto, Cal., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Desiring to get back to his office duties in Washington, President Hoover today arranged to leave his home here tomorrow night rather than Saturday as originally planned.

One of the Chief Executive's secretaries said today that Mr. Hoover had insisted upon reaching his White House desk not later than next Wednesday morning, and in order to meet this demand train schedules were hurriedly revised this morning to allow for a departure late tomorrow night.

The same presidential secretary, commenting upon reports that the President would call Franklin D. Roosevelt into an early conference, said definitely the President had made no such decision.

Leo F. Allen, Galena, Circuit Clerk of Jo Daviess county, was elected to Congress Tuesday by the Thirteenth district by a majority of 10,147 complete returns compiled last night showed Allen polled 44,565 votes to 34,418 for Orestes H. Wright, Stephenson county Democrat.

The vote by counties in the Thirteenth district Congress race follows: Whiteside, Allen, 11,518; Wright, 6,136; Lee, Allen, 7,322; Wright, 5,765; Ogles, Allen, 8,039; Wright, 4,216; Carroll, Allen, 4,653; Wright, 2,788; Jo Daviess, Allen, 4,856; Wright, 4,615; Stephenson, Allen, 8,177; Wright, 10,697.

Rainey Is Willing To Become Speaker

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Congressman Henry T. Rainey made known here yesterday that he wouldn't object to being speaker of the House of Representatives at Washington.

When asked concerning his position, H. Garner has been elected Vice President for the Democratic addition in the House, now that John administration, Rainey said: "My friends have been suggesting my name for the speakership, and I have not been hindering them."

BIG "CORN BELT
DERBY" IS UNDER WAY NEAR GALVAEighteen Husky Sons Of Midwest Competing
In Annual Event

The Robert Peterson Farm, at Galva, Ill., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Through mud ankle deep, 18 sturdy sons of the soil waded out across a 65 acre field today in pursuit of the National corn husking championship.

A crowd which sponsors of the event estimated at 40,000, clustered shivered in a chilling 36 degree temperature, lost shoes frequently in the sticky mud, and drank many cups of hot coffee.

The coffee came at 10 cents a cup from scores of vendors who set up their stands among the hundreds of automobiles parked for miles around. So serious was the traffic problem, despite squads of highway police and 300 American Legionnaires giving directions, the three mile trip to the farm from Galva took the better part of two hours.

Get Hour and Quarter

An hour and a quarter was allowed for each contestant to toss ears of corn into the 18 new and shiny red wagons drawn by tractors. It was estimated two hours would be required for judging of the load.

The contest started when Elmer Williams of Kewanee, Ill., the 1925 national champion set off two giant firecrackers. Walter Johansen of Ottawabon County, Iowa, arrived just in time. He was snowbound in Iowa for two hours yesterday, he said, and had to complete the trip by railroad.

The crowd circulated in among the huskers, but judges who watched for any ears of corn that might be overlooked by the huskers and thus lower their scores, kept them from interference.

The championship, carrying with it a little gold—$100 to be exact—and much glory, was decided on freeness of the corn from husks as well as the amount picked and the number of ears overlooked.

Galva, Ill., Nov. 10.—(AP)—

Eighteen husky sons of the agrarian middle west, each a champion or the runner-up in his own state, were assembled here today to take part in the national corn husking contest, otherwise known as the "Corn Belt Derby."

One of them where the golden-tinted corn fields of Henry county are shrouded in darkness tonight, will be crowned champion.

To win, the champion, it is expected, will have to husk between 33 and 34 bushels of corn in 80 minutes, the corn to be free of husks and no corn left in the rows.

Officials have prepared for a crowd of spectators they expect to exceed 50,000. The contest will be held on the Robert Peterson farm, three miles east of here, where 100 farmers have worked all this week preparing a 65-acre tract in which the contestants will labor. The field, they report, has an estimated yield of 95 bushels to the acre.

Penalties Provided

Each husker, after the starting signal has been given, will follow a brand new green and yellow wagon, drawn by a tractor, down the rows, stripping and husking the corn as he goes and tossing it into the wagon. Judges will follow to exact penalties for any corn overlooked by the huskers.

Eighty minutes of this, while the crowd looks on and cheers its favorites, and then the tractors haul it in to be weighed and examined. Additional penalties are imposed for failure to remove all husks from the ears.

Orville Welch, defending champion, lost his Illinois state title last week to Carl Seiler, left-handed corn husker from Kinross county.

The Contestants

The contestants, with the records they set in their state contests, were: Ohio—Lester Anthony, 20.97 bushels; Everett Ford, 19.92. South Dakota—Richard Anderson 29.26; Frank Bohr, 19.5. Kansas—Orville Peterson, 24.6; Joe Holthaus, 24.2. Minnesota—Ted Balko, 25.13; Clarence Maley, 24.65. Iowa—Orville Welch, 26.3; Walter Johansen, 26. Indiana—Lawrence Pitzer, 37.21; Albert Hensler, 26.4805. Nebraska—Harry E. Sorensen, 30.96; Kenneth Fouse, 30.82. Missouri—Omier Little, 33.64; Ralph McLaughlin, 33.46. Illinois—Carl Seiler, 32.026; Orville Welch, 31.778.

The deceased is survived by his widow, who was formerly Miss Julia Prindaville, and two daughters, Mary and Anna of Denver, Colo.

Election Fails
To Stir John D.;
It's An Old Tale

By BENTON JACOBS

(By The Associated Press)

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Time was when a presidential election was an important event in the life of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., but he has seen a lot of water flow over the dam in the 94 years he has lived.

"Neighbor John"—that's his designation when he comes to Florida for his annual winter sojourn—didn't discuss politics except indirectly when he arrived here this morning enroute to his estate at Ormond Beach.

A Republican of long standing, Mr. Rockefeller is, as one member of his household put it, "always glad to see any good man win, regardless of party."

The founder of the Standard Oil fortune indicated his sympathy for President Hoover by calling attention to a brief article in the paper he had on his breakfast table, written by Will Rogers, the humorist.

"That is something mighty fine" he said. "Will has written some very good stuff lately."

The article referred to addressed consolation to Mr. Hoover from "the whole American people," which the writer said "is no doubt greater than that ever shared by a losing President." It added: "There is nothing personal in that vote against you."

But Mr. Rockefeller preferred to talk about the sunshine which streaked across the station platform. There have been 23 Presidents to come and go since he was born. Martin Van Buren was the Chief Executive then, and when Mr. Rockefeller first was old enough to vote, Zachary Taylor was elected.

"CITY OF PEACE"
SCENE OF FATAL
RIOT LAST NIGHTAlleged Soviet Socialists
Incited Rioting
In Geneva

Geneva, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The tragedy of a fatal riot echoed through this "City of Peace" today after a company of young recruits had turned machine guns on a hissing crowd, killing 11 men and wounding 70 persons. The angry mob killed one soldier.

The disturbance came last night as the climax of weeks of bitter political agitation between Socialists and the local Geneva government.

It began in front of Community hall where an anti-Socialist political meeting was being held. When the hall became full, the gendarmes closed the doors, but the crowd broke through.

Sensing trouble, authorities ordered the young troops which previously had been called from Lausanne, to march to the scene. As soon as they appeared the crowd began hissing and called them "children's troops."

Child Among Victims
Suddenly there came a burst of machine-gun fire. Part of the crowd thought blanks were being discharged, but others slumped to the pavement, dead and wounded. Among them was a child whose jaw was shot away.

One of the young machine gunners was so horrified at the sight of bloodshed that he quit his weapon, and ran away in hysterics.

Eight of the crowd were killed instantly, most of them riddled with bullets. Two others and the soldier, died today, bringing the death list to ten this morning.

Two morning newspapers said the tragedy should be blamed on two Socialist leaders, Leon Nicole, editor of an afternoon newspaper and member of the Cantonal government, and Jacques Dicker, lawyer and naturalized Russian. The newspapers denounced the two as emissaries of Moscow.

Nicole was arrested today and accused of fomenting revolution. The newspaper LeJournal said street speckmaking preceded the riot and Nicole had been haranguing the crowd.

Urged Revolution
"To the government which has mobilized against us the police and army," Nicole was quoted as saying, "we must respond by revolution."

Then, according to the journal, a Communist named Lebet, hoisted on the shoulders of comrades, shouted, "today there is no longer separation between Socialists and Communists." He went on, the paper said:

"We must unite for revolution. The Soviets are celebrating their 15th anniversary. We all are with them. Long live the Soviets. The bourgeoisie newspapers said the manifestos were armed with clubs and pepper."

Despite the disorders in the street the anti-Socialist meeting was able to carry out its program inside the hall and adopted a resolution denouncing Nicole and Dicker as "in the service of a foreign power."

Victor's Joy
Is Tempered By Grief For Friend

Platte City, Mo., Nov. 10—(AP)—A brief but tiring campaign at end, Judge Guy B. Pack, who is to become Missouri's first Democratic Governor in 12 years, looked forward today to 10 days of "some fishing and a lot of thinking and sleeping."

The 60-year-old Governor-elect acquired his love for fishing as a boy when he and Francis M. Wilson tried their luck in the streams of Platte county.

It was the death of Mr. Wilson last month while the party nominee for Governor which thrust Judge Pack unexpectedly into the battle. The glory of triumph was tempered by the Governor-elect's reflection on what might have been.

"The heart-breaking tragedy of this victory is that Francis Wilson is not living to take the honors which rightfully belonged to him," Judge Pack said.

"This was his election. When he was struck by death, he was preparing to begin an active campaign for votes. Since he was a young man he had cherished one ambition—to be Governor of Missouri. The honors of this victory must be shared with him."

Tuesday before he went to the polls to vote, Judge Pack took to the grave of his boyhood friend and political associate a bouquet of roses sent from Kansas City by Mr. Wilson's widow. The white-haired Governor-elect also left as his own token of respect a bunch of native Missouri bitterns.

Sausages Add Fine Flavor to Menu

During the fall and winter months, sausages are popular for luncheon, breakfast and dinner. They are useful to give flavor to many interesting dishes and are a most attractive and appetizing garnish for roast chicken and turkey.

While any kind of meat can be made into "sausage" in this country the word generally means a pork product. If some other meat is used a characteristic word is used to define it. Link sausage, country sausage, and bulk sausage are all made from finely chopped pork. Both fat and lean meat are used, but never more than one-third as much fat as lean should be added.

Meats must be carefully planned when sausage is to be the meat. Vegetables that will provide bulk as well as mineral salts and vitamin content are necessary. A simple salad served with a French dressing, and a light dessert of fruit, round out the meal satisfactorily.

In order to insure thorough cooking without drying out and over-cooking, it is an excellent idea to parboil thick sausage first. Put sausage in frying pan and add water to half cover. Prick the skin in several places to prevent bursting and let the water cook away. Then brown over a low fire in the fat that cooks out of the sausage. Allow an hour to cook sausage one and one-half inches in diameter.

Sausage may be baked in moderate oven instead of cooked on top of the stove, but no matter how it is cooked it must be well done.

There are all sorts of delicious combination dishes made with sausages. Potatoes, apples and the small individual squash are most inviting stuffed with sausage. Scalloped sweet potatoes and bulk sausage, macaroni and sausage, rice and sausage, sausage in a casing of baking powder biscuit dough, and apples and sausages in various ways—these are a few of the many ways sausage can be used to add variety to the winter menus.

Sausage rolls are a good hearty luncheon dish.

Sausage Rolls

4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
Water

Put on a floured molding board and roll with a floured rolling pin into a sheet about one-half inch thick. Cut into oblong pieces and put a sausage in each. Fold pieces together and place on an oiled and floured pan. Bake in moderate oven for 25 minutes. Serve with apple or cranberry sauce.

New Books at Dixon Library

Beyond the Door of Delusion—Avery.

This book was written by a patient in a state hospital for the insane. In the world outside he is remembered as a brilliant newspaper man, a welcome speaker at luncheon clubs, and an active figure in civil affairs. He is where he is of his own volition. He is trying to rid himself of his insatiable craving for liquor. He has seized upon the opportunities presented to study his associates and analyze their states of insanity, disentangle the truth from the false in the stories told him, and weave the whole into a fascinating narrative of life "Behind the Door of Delusion."

Elving Carpet—Halliburton

The irrepressible author of the "Royal Road to Romance" sails over mosques and bazaars of the east on the "Magic Carpet," his airplane. "Just Like the Arabian Nights." His enviable adventures are told as gaily and dramatically as the old tales.

House Under the Water—Young
Griffith Tregon had a red beard and a temper to match it. When he strode through the fertile Welsh valley in which his old homestead stood, the sheep trembled and the vicious dogs howled; he hated everyone above him and vowed that he would master the poor peasants beneath him. Francis Brett Young is well known for his character portrayal, his imagination and humor, and the loveliness of his prose.

Nicodemus—Robinson.
These eleven poems are narratives of psychological conflict or problems of human conduct; Nicodemus defending Jesus to Caiaphas, Ponce de Leon debating with his physicians. Admirers of Edwin Arlington Robinson, and he has many, will be anxious to read this new volume.

FOR CHILDREN

Dick & Tom in Town—Van Doren.

Further adventures of two ponies. For those 8 to 14.

Doctor Doolittle's Zoo—Lofting.

In which rats ride their sick around in ambulances made of old shoes, and pigs eat raisins out of rice pudding. 8 to 14.

Picture Book of Travel—Hader.

This book tells with gorgeous pictures how men trained other men, and then later, animals, to carry them around; for long years ago even horses were not used for travel, to say nothing about automobiles. For those 4 to 14.

Nicodemus and his Little Sister—Hogan.

Nicodemus was a colored boy who had to take care of his little sister, and she was a real live, picnicking. It doesn't seem as if one little girl could get into so much trouble. For those 4 to 8.

Playing Airplane—

How to make a play airplane out of an old box and a few other scraps.

Lots of fun for any boy or girl from 7 to 12.

Picture Book of Animals—Lord.

Anyone from 2 to 100 will enjoy these fine photographs of animals.

When You Grow up to Vote—Roosevelt.

Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt has written a good book for children 9 to 14 about the duties of the President, Governor, Mayor, etc. It makes politics understandable and interesting.

Current issues of the following magazines may be read at the library and copies for the previous six months will be circulated. Magazines are bound semi-annually, and are then kept in the library as a permanent reference collection.

Congresswomen Is Accomplished in Sports

Hays, Kas., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Miss Kathryn O'Loughlin, new Democratic Representative in Congress from the Sixth Kansas District, became accustomed to racing before she began her political campaign. As a child she scurried under fences to escape charging Texas longhorns and later in life she became proficient in riding bronchos.

She defeated eight men in the primary and won over Charles I. Sparks, Republican incumbent, in a normally Republican district.

She took up law to escape a humdrum life as a bookkeeper in her father's garage, acted as clerk for the House Judiciary committee as editor of a legislative service bulletin for an insurance firm and two years ago became the first woman representative in the legislature from Ellis county.

This 38-year-old Congresswoman enjoys golf but her hobby is sewing. Tall and slender, she wears her brunette hair bobbed.

'Oh Yeah,' Somewhat High Brow After All!

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—"Oh yeah" may have come in with the gum-chewing era, but the "yeah" part of it was good English as spoken by King Alfred the Great, 849 to 901.

This and other survivals of the pronouncements of King Alfred and of Chaucer, father of English poetry, were found in the Blue Ridge mountains this fall by Prof. W. Cabell Great of the Department of English, Barnard College.

In a summary of this study made public today it is explained that King Alfred said "yeah" as his pronunciation of the word "gea," which was Saxon for yes.

Today's "yeah," Professor Great says, is strictly a descendant of another form of yes, the word "yea," then pronounced at court as "Yaa," with the long sound of a.

Professor Great made his dialect studies with phonograph records, the Blue Ridge trip extending investigations which he has made in several sections of the east.

THE MENACE OF DICTATORSHIP.

During the past summer a new sentence crept into current American usage. You heard it in a good many places—at luncheon tables, in Pullman smoking compartments, in business offices, at bridge parties and so on. It was this:

"What this country needs is a dictator."

An idea that no American would seriously consider a few years ago became a commonplace topic of discussion during the campaign. No political campaigner touched on it, of course, but it was voiced over and over again by ordinary folk, and you can still hear it.

At bottom, of course, it simply illustrates the way in which the general public has become disillusioned about its government.

It reflects a widening belief that our democratic government is too cumbersome, unwieldy and slow-moving to handle a crisis like the one through which we have been passing. A steadily-increasing part of the population no longer trusts devoutly and blindly in the ability of democracy to meet an emergency.

To a great extent this disillusionment is justified. But those who talk glibly about our need for a dictator ought to remember that they are proposing nothing less than a complete revolution in our form of government.

Installing a dictatorship in a confused and sorely tried nation is a fairly simple job. Getting rid of the dictator after the emergency has passed, however, is not so simple.

Who would really support a dictatorship in America? All of the blind forces of greed and reaction that progressive leaders have fought ever since the days of Andrew Jackson. The dictatorship would inevitably place property right above human rights. Its first job would be to make great fortunes secure. It would leave precious little room for freedom.

All of this, of course, is self-evident. But it gets forgotten by those who dabble in this "we need a dictatorship" business. That phrase, voiced by a lot of people who ought to know better, represents one of the greatest menaces our country faces today.

THE REAL CURSE OF POVERTY.

American newspapers have seldom carried a stranger or more pathetic story than the one they drew out of Pottsville, Pa., recently.

This story was a little one-paragraph affair about the life and death of John Connor.

Connor was born 69 years ago in the county poorhouse. He lived there all of his life, of his own choice. When he was sent to school, but the other children jeered at him for being a pauper and he refused to continue; when he became of age he begged poorhouse authorities to let him stay in the only home he had ever known, and he worked the rest of his life on the county farm to pay his keep.

And the other day he died in the poorhouse, and now he has been buried in the potter's field.

Things like this, apparently, will happen now and then no matter how prosperous a nation may be or how thoughtfully it tries to take care of its unfortunate. The day when even the most unfortunate of children gets a fair shot at a good life will be the day of the millennium.

But the picture which this little story of John Connor creates is enough to make us heartsick.

It tells about a man who had somehow, through the cruel pressure of circumstance, become something less than a man. Life had him beaten before he even knew that he was in a fight. Somewhere, in those years of childhood—and how unutterably painful they must have been—something vital was knocked out of him. Those 69 years in the poorhouse were simply the shadow of a life, the thin and distorted reflection of human existence as it ought to be.

And there, in the last analysis, is the real tragedy of all poverty. Poverty brings pain and suffering and hunger and deprivation—but those, after all, are things that can be endured. They are things some men have even heroically invited. What makes poverty a curse is that it destroys life itself. It reduces its victim to a machine for eating and sleeping. It is a thing that must always stir a thinking man to the profoundest indignation.

A part of our task will be to see to it that modification is adopted in such a form as to pass review by the courts and to see to it that beer is not so heavily taxed as to make modification in part meaningless. It should provide a tremendous revenue, but it should not be taxed so heavily that home brew will drive it out of the market.—Matthew Woll, vice-president American Federation of Labor.

We are becoming engulfed in a powerful undertow pulling us back into the dangerous waters of lowered standards as to hours, wages and working conditions in industry and business.—Miss Mary Anderson, director, women's bureau, U. S. Department of Labor.

Imagine a man being known as "Mr. Garbo"—just that and nothing more! Only a fool or a hero could abide such an anomalous position.—Greta Garbo, film actress.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The deer-horse was a sight to see and Scouty cried, "It seems to me that Coppy's not so good at riding. He is bound to fall."

"The horse is jumping in the air. To watch it gives me a scare. Why did we let the lad get on? It was not fair at all."

"Oh, he will be all right," weedy Windy said. "That lad knows how to use his head. He'll whisper kind words to the horse and very shortly make it stop."

"Perhaps it is fun just bouncing around, as long as he keeps off the ground. We must be set to lend a hand if Coppy takes a flop."

The friendly farmer then came near and shouted, "Gee, I sadly fear that if some hunters see that deer head they may take a shot."

"If Duncy still has magic oil, some poured upon the horse may spoil the chance of any shooting. It would relieve my mind a lot."

Then out dashed Duncy. "Just watch me," he shouted. "You will shortly see the horse lose all its jumping power." He then spread oil around.

It stopped the strange horse on its track and Coppy jumped down off its back. "Oh, my," he shouted. "I am glad to get back on the ground."

"That oil is real good," brave Scouty cried. "Another stunt shall now be tried. Four come upon this auto tire. Then I will pump it high."

So Duncy did. A face appeared and all the Timmies were "skered" until the farmer said "Come, blow it up."

The pump was fastened very quick and Scouty blew it up real slick. Said he, "This tire still is good for lots of dandy rides."

The air, however, that poured in through tickling made the tire grin. And then it started laughing till it split both of its sides.

(The Timmies have some fun with an auto jack in the next story.)

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAKING A LIVING

By WILLIAM E. GILROY

No lesson could have greater timeliness in relation to present needs and economic conditions than this on making a living. Those who think that religion should stick to its own field whatever that field may be, and have nothing to do with social problems, must surely be startled by the directness and vigor with which Amos denounces the unequal and unjust social conditions of his time.

The herdsman-prophet, with the clear vision and the plain speech induced by the simple conditions of his rural life, does not see sin merely in terms of what we might call personal immorality. It is a sin in his judgment to trample upon the poor, to take unjust exactions of what they have produced from the soil, and to fail to give to each his proper place and reward in the scheme of life.

He sees in the disregarding of justice, in the taking of bribes, and the disregard of the needy, sins against God quite as much as sins against man and he puts the welfare of the nation, and the safety of society upon the basis of getting rid of such evils and establishing just conditions.

Surely one must realize the extent to which all this applies in our life today. As these words are written the daily newspapers record the fact that a man whose name has been associated with one of the most extensive developments of organized finance and industry has been arrested and put in jail. Often it is only in the collapse of such schemes that we discover the rottenness that is at their very heart, the rottenness by which groups of insensate men exploit the masses of the people for their own aggrandizement.

Can we build securely or safely in this nation if we have no regard for honesty? Can we build a society in which every man who is willing to work will have reasonable reward for his labor and a new share in the national wealth while we disregard elemental matters of honesty and right?

No matter how much certain usages and practices may be entrenched in law and financial custom honesty can be the only right foundation. The widespread effort to get something for nothing or to control what one has done little or nothing to produce, is inherently wrong. To seek a living where he have not lived and made our lives productive is to take from the welfare of all for our own ends.

PAIN
LOOSENED
WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing Ben-Gay on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "dead" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Ben-Gay. Ben-Gay by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic lotions, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Just an Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

have his reasonable and proper share. These principles are as much grounded in true politics and true economics as they are in religion. They are the elemental things upon which a sound society can be built.

Underlying them, of course, is the need of character and education. Such conditions cannot be artificially produced out of a society in which men are dishonest or insincere, or ignorant and unconcerned about the highest way of living. But in building education we must build character, and in building character we must build in relation to goals that represent the welfare of all.

The slothful servant who disregards his talent, even if it be only one talent, and who falls through ignorance or lack of character to do his part, is inherently as much a social weakness and a social menace as the man who misuses his larger talents for the exploitation of other men.

If we are to build up a true democracy in which every man bears and receives his share, we must take heed to its foundations in righteousness and truth.

Gault MacGowan, managing editor of the Trinidad Guardian, Port-of-Spain (B. W. I.), says: "The more I see of advertising the more I am convinced that we know nothing about it."

"We built up a world boom by advertising luxuries we could do without; then when the luxuries were doing all the business there was a slump in primary commodities. Naturally and logically, everyone was buying luxuries and was learning to do without primary products."

"The girls smoked cigarettes instead of eating sugar candy and chocolate; they gave up bread for rusks; they began to use artificial silk instead of wool and cotton and flannel; we used electricity instead of coal; we learned to eat canned goods instead of village products. Thousands of people acquired a taste for canned milk instead of fresh."

"What did primary products do? Instead of advertising their way to success, too, they cried overproduction. Overproduction. Overproduction is only a child's way of saying 'no buyers.'"

"Look around and see who advertises least. It is the producer of primary products every time. They got the idea that they were

She'll Wed Noted Explorer

Before Lincoln Ellsworth of Hudson, O., leaves for his polar exploration trip next spring he will wed Miss Mary-Louise Ulmer, above, of Pottsville, Pa. aviator, in a 2900-mile exploration trip. Both Ellsworth and his bride-indispensable and when they found they were not, they sat down and wept instead of taking a course in salesmanship.

"Fortunes used to be made out of land and farming. The farmer was the one-man shop in the one-horse town. Everybody had to go to him or starve. Nowadays instead of going to the farmer it is easier to buy canned food; luxuries advertised by middlemen or importers. The farmer sits around and wonders where his customers have gone."

"We can do without bread, cocoa, sugar, potatoes and practically all the fresh produce there is. But the producers 'kid' themselves that we can't. They blame economics and overproduction for lack of sales. If they advertised and packed and marketed like everybody else, they would not get left in the lurch."

"When the primary producers learn to keep pace in their advertising with the producers of luxury goods, the world will get balanced again. So long as the primary producers don't get together and advertise so long will they tell a hard luck tale. And so long will the world slump, because, though we all like luxuries, we can only buy them so long as enough of us earn the right to do it by selling the fruits of the sweat of our brow. And those who SWEAT MUST LEARN TO SELL!"

Daily Health Talk

DRUGS

It isn't natural to take drugs. On the other hand, it isn't natural for a man to harbor the germs of malaria or other diseases in his body. Hence, the unnatural condition of disease calls for the unnatural use of drugs.

The oldest drugs came down to us from prehistoric times. The discovery of their usefulness was rooted in common experience.

The ancients knew of the purgative value of mineral spring waters.

The ancient inhabitants of India discovered the pain-killing and sleep-producing qualities of opium and from India poppy juice was carried to Egypt, Greece, China and over the rest of the world.

The Arabians discovered the antiseptic qualities of balsams and of sweet and pungent-smelling herbs. These were applied to wounds with beneficial results.

Mercury, which has for centuries been a standby in the treatment of syphilis, was discovered by the alchemists, who sought to convert it into gold.

Digitalis, derived from the plant known as foxglove, was accidentally discovered by the English physician Withering about the time of the American revolution.

He learned of the value of the drug from an old woman in the country, who had cured several people of dropsy. This drug has proved of great value as a heart stimulant and in the treatment of a variety of heart conditions.

More recently, America and Europe discovered the value of the Chinese drug now called ephedrine, which was known to and employed by the orientals for many centuries.

In modern days the development of drugs however, depends not so much on accident as on carefully pursued studies.

One of the greatest triumphs of the laboratory is that obtained by Paul Ehrlich, who after 606 trials produced a compound of arsenic which could destroy the germ of syphilis in the body without destroying the patient as well.

Tomorrow — Sleep-producing. Drugs.

THE NEW CONTRACT CODE

★ ANALYZED BY AN EXPERT ★

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of three articles by Lieut. Alfred M. Gruenther, U. S. A., on the new contract bridge rules. Lieut. Gruenther is one of the nation's leading bridge tournament referees. He officiated at the famous Lenz-Culbertson match. Today he explains the changes in scoring.)

By Lieutenant Alfred M. Gruenther, U. S. A.

Scoring changes made in the new International Contract Bridge Code which went into effect November 1 may cause average players more trouble than other alterations of the laws.

In my first two articles I explained the new penalties for infringements of the rules. Following is an analysis of the new scoring system:

Scoring Changes
No Trump Tricks—Instead of counting each no trump trick as 35 points the new values are 30 points for the 1st, 3rd, 5th and 7th tricks and 40 points for the 2nd, 4th and 6th tricks. The score for two, four, or six, no trump is the same as the old score (70, 140, 210), while the values of one, three, five and seven no trump are five points less than under the old code. Thus five no trump formerly counted 175. Now it is 170.

Under the new code all "fives" are automatically eliminated from the last digit of a score. The mistakes in addition thus will be materially decreased. A three no trump contract is valued at 100 points, the same as a game contract in diamonds or clubs. Heretofore, the five point advantage in favor of the three no trump contract stimulated much unnatural bidding in duplicate in the endeavor to play a hand at a contract of three no trump.

Omission of Premiums for Making Doubled Contracts—The old laws gave the bidding side too much of an advantage, since the Declarer's side had so much more to gain, if a doubled contract was made, than the adversaries if contract was defeated. Thus under the old laws, if a contract of four hearts, doubled not vulnerable, was made, the Declarer gained 170 points extra while the adversaries could gain but 50 points extra if the contract was defeated one trick. Under the new rule the Declarer's gain is only 120 points.

Reduced Premium for Undoubled Overtricks—The premium for undoubled overtricks has been reduced from 50 points per trick to the corresponding odd trick value. Thus, if a player bids two hearts and makes three hearts, he will score 60 points below the line and 30 points above the line. The premium for overtricks in a doubled contract remains unchanged, i. e., 100 points for each doubled overtrick when not vulnerable and 200 points for each doubled overtrick when vulnerable.

This change has been in effect in all duplicate bridge contests for four years and has proven popular.

Changes in Undertrick Penalties—The new code has increased the doubled, not vulnerable, undertrick penalties. The undoubled non-vulnerable penalties remain at 50 points per trick. This was one of the major defects under the old laws, since it encouraged sacrifice bidding to an undesirable extent. However the new penalties still allow the non-vulnerable side considerable latitude in overbidding activities. A comparison of the old and the new penalties follows:

	Not-Vulnerable		Under trick
	Penalties	Doubled	New Laws	Old Laws
Down 1	100	100	100	100
Down 2	250	250	250	250
Down 3	450	450	450	450
Down 4	700	700	700	700
Down 5	1000	1000	1000	1000
Down 6	1350	1350	1350	1400

The penalty schedule for the doubled undertricks is:

100 for first undertrick.	150 for second undertrick.	200 for third undertrick.

and so on with an increase of 50 points for each succeeding trick.

Vulnerable Undertrick Penalties—The penalties which a vulnerable side loses on undoubled undertricks are the same as the loss suffered by a non-vulnerable side when doubled. If a vulnerable side is doubled the penalties are twice the undoubled penalties.

Thus the increase is a regular one. The new and the old vulnerable undertrick penalties follow:

	New Laws		Old Laws
	Un-Doubled	Doubled	Un-Doubled	Doubled
Down 1	100	200	100	200
Down 2	250	500	300	600
Down 3	450	900	500	1000

Down 4 700 1400 700 1400

Down 5 1000 2000 900 1800

The maximum penalty possible under the new laws is 20,800 points, if one bids a grand slam redoubled and vulnerable and fails to take a single trick.

Grand Slam Premiums—The non-vulnerable grand slam premium has been increased from 1,000 to 1,500; the vulnerable grand slam premium from 1,500 to 2,250. Under the old laws expert players refused to consider bidding a grand slam on anything except a cinch holding since the increased bonus over the small slam premium did not justify the increased risk. The new laws balance the greater risk with the increased premium. The small slam bonuses remain unchanged.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

DEMOCRATS WILL HAVE FREE HAND IN NEW CONGRESS

Control Of Lame Duck Senate Snatched From Them

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The national election has given Congress into Democratic hands by margins approaching all time records, but one prize—control of the Senate during the immediate short session—was snatched from them by an extraordinary Republican rally in New Jersey.

The Democratic majority of the next House stood nearly three to one, as the victorious forces swept past the 300 mark. The next Senate's strength was definitely put down at 59 Democrats, 36 Republicans and one Farmer-Labor. This involved capturing 12 seats now held by the G. O. P.

Control of the Senate in the "lame duck" session turned on two elections for unexpired terms, one in Colorado, the other in New Jersey. While Karl C. Schuyler, the Republican candidate in the western state, won his race, Senator W. Warren Barbour of New Jersey won from his Democratic rival, Representative Percy H. Stewart. Late votes, counted after Barbour had conceded defeat, turned the trick. Barbour is the man appointed to the vacancy by death of Dwight W. Morrow.

This left the Senate standing for the remainder of the old Congress at 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Farmer-Labor.

Took Heavy Toll

While the overturn in the new Senate robbed Republican ranks of every regular leader whose seat was at stake, the devastation in the House toppled over the veteran Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa, who had withstood every opponent since 1899; eliminated Will Wood of Indiana, chairman of his party's congressional campaign committee and former chairman of the Appropriations committee; defeated Michener of Michigan, and Purnell of Indiana, both keystones of the Republican machine in the House.

Though Pennsylvania remained Republican in its presidential vote, Democrats had taken nine seats in that stronghold. They took every seat in West Virginia, eliminating Carl C. Bachmann, Republican whip of the House. Missouri's new delegation will be solidly Democratic, so will Washington's and Kentucky's.

In Minnesota, five Farmer-Laborites were threatening further inroads on Republican strength.

Must Get New Leaders

The long role of defeats will compel Republicans to overhaul thoroughly their organization in both branches, to plug up the vacated places of leadership, vital even to a party of such small strength as the G. O. P. in Congress now is to be.

But organization questions will face the Democrats also, both in division of key committee chairmanships in the Senate, which are of vital importance because of the influence which may be wielded from them on legislation, and in the selection of a Speaker to succeed John N. Garner in the House when he moves to the Vice President's chair. In the House, though aided by the magnitude of their majority, the Democrats will have fresh difficulties within their own ranks because of the so numerous newcomers, inexperienced in legislative methods.

LAST MINUTE VICTORY

Newark, N. J., Nov. 10.—(AP)—From an electoral hat which overflew yesterday morning with an apparent $50,000 vote advantage for his Democratic opponent, United States Senator W. Warren Barbour had polled today a plurality that will send him back to the Senate.

If the expression "snatch victory from defeat" were ever apt, it was particularly so today in this contest between Barbour, Republican, and Percy H. Stewart, Democrat, for the unexpired term of the late Dwight Morrow.

At noon yesterday Senator Barbour, now serving by appointment, viewed the Democratic devastation to Republican hopes everywhere, studied the figures that placed Stewart far ahead of him at that time, and conceded defeat.

Almost as though his very concession were a signal, the trend of the returns swung about. He sought to recall his statement conceding Stewart's election, but it was too late. Smaller and smaller grew the Stewart advantage. Last night it was wiped away entirely; and this morning with only 29 of the state's 345 districts unreported—and all of them in Republican territory—Barbour led Stewart 727,234 to 718,804.

WIFE OF STALIN, MOST POWERFUL RUSSIAN, DEAD

But Soviet People Are Not Informed Of Her Relationship

Moscow, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Soviet Russia today mourned the death of the most faithful Bolshevik woman—Nadezhda Sergeevna Alliluyeva—the wife, closest friend, and comrade of the powerful Joseph Stalin.

To the world she was Mrs. Stalin and she died yesterday in her thirty-first year.

Neither to the world nor Russia generally was anything known of the cause of death or the grief that Russia's most important figure was bearing. As always, the private life of Joseph Stalin and his family was not revealed.

The official announcement did not even identify the young wife and mother of two of Stalin's children as his mate, nor did the official Soviet statement of condolence.

The body lay in state today in the lofty hall of the central executive committee building on Red Square, opposite the tomb of Lenin and only a block away from the Kremlin where she had lived inconspicuously for thirteen years.

Uniformed Guard

Flowers banked the red coffin and five uniformed comrades who were her classmates at the All-Union Industrial Academy stood as a guard of honor while a military band played intermittently.

Even in her death the public appeared not to know that she was the wife of the most powerful figure in all Russia. Only a few people, most of them those who had known her well, filed past the bier.

The newspapers gave her death a quarter of a page, but for all most of Moscow knew here was only another staunch Bolshevik who had died.

The funeral will be held tomorrow in Novodevichi Monastery, one of the oldest institutions of its kind in Russia, where are buried the first wife of Peter the Great, the wife and daughter of Boris Duvonov, and Chekhov, the novelist.

PRESIDENT TO GET GOOD REST BEFORE RETURN

Will Probably Leave Palo Alto For Capital Saturday

Palo Alto, Calif., Nov. 10.—(AP)—President Hoover settled himself back even more firmly in his home here today, determined to obtain a complete rest before returning to the national capital to prepare for the meeting of Congress and the last four months of his administration.

Aides of the Chief Executive said arrangements had been made for several California delegations, and individual friends, to meet him this afternoon, but that otherwise the scene at the Hoover home would remain quiet.

Just as the President again accustomed himself to Palo Alto and Stanford University, on the campus of which he lives, so the town became more accustomed to the President. The bunting and banners, saying "Welcome Home," which had been swung across the streets were removed late yesterday.

Tentative arrangements have been made for Mr. Hoover and the party that accompanied him as he campaigned across the continent to board their special train again Saturday night for a return by a southern route to the White House.

This morning aides worked to complete the President's schedule with two routes under consideration, either of which would carry him south to Los Angeles before turning eastward.

With Mrs. Hoover, the President has planned several automobile rides that would carry them over routes they both knew together during the years of their residence here, where both attended the University.

CURTIS IN CAPITAL

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—In the chill of early dawn, Vice President Charles Curtis returned to the Capital today, a cheerful grin of greeting on his genial face, despite his first defeat by popular vote in a political career running back to 1884.

Gathered to welcome him at the station on his arrival from his Topeka home by way of Kansas City and Chicago were members of his office staff and several friends, for each of whom he had a chuckling remark and smile—with no mention of the election.

Asked for his opinion of the Democratic landslide that jarred him from office along with President Hoover, Curtis smilingly replied: "We were surprised. We expected to surprise the other fellow."

For the Democrats' possibilities: "I hope the other fellow now can make good on his promises."

His future plans, the Vice President said, were aimed at "cleaning up my office" and "trying to get some rest."

LAST HOME GRID GAME OF SEASON HERE TOMORROW

Savanna Meets Both Of Lindell's Teams In Holiday Contests

By DON HILLIKER
Tomorrow afternoon Coach C. B. Lindell trots out his charges for a two-game entertainment with Savanna. The B teams open at 1:00 o'clock instead of the previously announced time, fifteen minutes later. This opportunity is the final for local fans to see Lindell's boys in competition on the north-side athletic field, for the 1932 season. The remainder of the schedule will be played in Rock Falls and Sterling.

Savanna comes here with a strong aggregation. The visitors always have been tough opponents for any team. Coach McCarthy boasts a veteran outfit which clicks with plenty of polish. Capt. Wittenberger and Leonardo lead the forwards with Froesch and Harby the most consistent ground gainers.

For its final home show Dixon is primed for any kind of disagreeable conditions. Practice in the rain and snow has been indulged in all week. The same regular lineup is being worked hard to gain the fifth win of the year. Dixon has won four, lost one and tied one. Twenty-three seniors are making their last stand in the double-header.

The public-speaking plan is scheduled for the Armistice Day festivities. Bill Smith and Don Hilliker will be at the "mike" to give fans a description of the play and other valuable information.

Activity at the high school for this week is centered on the Armistice Day half-holiday. At 10:40 A. M. the regular weekly assembly will take place under the auspices of the Dixon Post, No. 12, of the American Legion. Rev. James Barnett, pastor of the Christian church, will be the speaker. The program will move to the flag pole in front of the school for taps and a salute at 11 o'clock. Following this school will be dismissed for the day.

After the American Legion observance the students will receive the second edition of the school paper. Published every two weeks the editors have planned a great copy for Friday. The paper came out in its initial appearance without a name but since then a contest was held to secure a proper title. The officials have withheld the selection until the issuance of this week's publication.

A hiking club has been organized at the local high school under the supervision of Miss Marion A.

Lawson and Mrs. Lazier. Daily trips is the pastime of this new organization.

On Friday evening in the school gymnasium the Junior-Senior entertainment is planned. Patriotic decorations and a patriotic program in keeping with Armistice Day will feature. The carnival dance will hear Herb Connors and his orchestra from Oregon.

Hockey About To Move In Spotlight
New York, Nov. 10 —(AP)—The National Hockey League, expanded again to nine clubs with the return of the Ottawa Senators and much changed by a general shuffling of players during the off-season opens its 1932-33 season in three cities tonight.

The return of king winter to the sport world will be hailed in Toronto, where the Maple Leafs, winners of the Stanley Cup last spring, clash with the Boston Bruins; in Montreal, where the rebuilt Maroons entertain the New York Rangers, 1932 league champions and in Detroit where the Red Wings, a team that even has changed its name, play host to the speedy Chicago Blackhawks.

Toronto again starts off as a favorite in the race which will wind up next spring when the Stanley Cup, symbol of the world's professional hockey championship is awarded for the 41st time. The Leafs have made very few changes in last year's team and come back with strength and speed to spare.

Cronin a giant in his own rights, arose in disgust and dumped the pair on the floor, knocking both unconscious. Seconds flourished towels and poured water in the dormant pair to no avail. After the twenty-second time-limit, when neither arose, the referee called it a draw. Each had won a previous fall.

STAGG HOPEFUL MAROONS WILL SPRING UPSET

Usual "Fearful" Coach Has Hunch Maroons Will Turn Trick

Chicago, Nov. 10 —(AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg is supposed to be conservative at his ripe age of 70 but he's got a persistent hunch that his University of Chicago Maroons are going to bounce Michigan out of their exclusive Big Ten football flat Saturday.

Although the odds against such a stunning upset are about 50 to 1, Coach Stagg and his players figure they have a great chance to turn the trick right in Michigan's own backyard. Here's how they are figuring success in their giant killer role.

First, two Chicago regulars of great value, Pete Zimmer and Hugh Mendenhall, will be back to give the team full strength for the first time in three weeks. Zimmer is rated as a great ball carrier while Mendenhall is one of the best defense men against passes—and Michigan's road to fame has been through the air—in football.

Make Many Threats
Secondly, the Maroons have threatened to score in the first period of very game this fall. If such a chance is offered in the Michigan game, Coach Stagg's bulging trick bag will be ripped wide open for one big drive after which defensive football will be played.

Thirdly, Chicago defeated Indiana, 13 to 7, whereas Michigan, apparently showing the strain of the hard drive for the title, turned back the same Hoosiers, 7 to 0, last Saturday.

Coach Stagg and his team were to be given a rousing send-off by several hundred Chicago alumni at the annual banquet tonight. Several Maroon stars of yesterday were scheduled to speak, including the team of 1905, which defeated Michigan under a similar "under dog" role. The banquet was expected to swell Chicago's bubble of optimism to dangerous proportions.

Wolverines Ready
Meanwhile, Michigan refused to take the game as a "breather" for the hard duel with Minnesota a week away. Coach Harry Kipke drilled his players on defense and hoped to have his full fighting front ready for action.

Rain, snow and sleet drove most Big Ten squads indoors yesterday but the drills were spirited. Northwestern, disregarding the elemental interference, scrimmaged for an hour and one-half against the freshmen with impressive results. Coach Dick Hanley sent Al Kawa to left guard. George Potter to quarterback and instructed the players to give Jackie Sullivan more chances to carry the ball against Notre Dame Saturday.

Jack Manders predicted he would be back in action for Minnesota against Wisconsin Saturday to buoy the Gopher hopes while the Badgers experimented with the line in search of more weight.

PUNTS AND PASSES
West Point, N. Y. —"Casey" A. Finnegan, North Dakota State coach, believes his team will show more power against Army Saturday than it did last week in taking its first defeat of the season from George Washington. The Bisons will have the benefit of four days' practice on the scene of the game, he explained, and Wendell Schollander, the team's only reliable passer, will be back after two week's absence.

Minneapolis — Jack Manders, a Minnesota regular fullback, has high hopes of getting into Saturday's game against Wisconsin. He gave his sore ankle some exercise yesterday and commented "If it improves the rest of the way like it has since last night, I'll be in shape to play."

Princeton, N. J. — Princeton's football squad ought to show plenty of co-ordination or just the opposite, according to how roommates get along. Eight pairs of them are on the squad, Purnell and Garrett, Kadlec and Kalbaugh, Bates and Smith, Chamberlain and Coggeshall, Cruikshank and Rulon-Miller, Van Dyke and Stewart, Hallett and Quigley, and Weaver and Haggin.

Villanova, Pa. — If Detroit and Villanova can't solve the passing games the other presents Saturday it probably will be because the teacher outshines his pupil, or vice versa. Harry Stuhldreher, Villanova coach, says that Gus Dorais, Detroit mentor, taught him how and when to pass, when he was at Notre Dame.

Army Jumpers To Have Real Contest

New York, Nov. 10 —(AP)—The prospects for interesting competition in the international military jumping contest, the high spot of the 47th National Horse Show, were all the brighter today after an unusually fine showing by the Canadian Army team in a preliminary event, a class for pairs of international officers shown abreast.

The Canadians, who will compete against the Irish Free State, France and the United States, in the big event Monday, carried off first honors as Michael and Red Plume, ridden by Capt. Ed Hammond and Lieut. C. C. Mann, covered the difficult course almost as one horse. They were charged with only a half fault.

Three pairs from the Irish Free State team took the next three places, Slievenamon and Gallow Glass, with Captains Daniel Corry and Fred Ahearne up, coming in second and with one fault. Two French teams and four from the United States Army followed them.

The United States Army team, however, made up for some troubles in the final event for jumpers, the pen, when two of its horses followed Hugh Bancroft Jr.'s Fairfax in the placing with the Irish Slievenamon fourth.

The second day of the show today was featured by the competition for the F. D. Mackay Memorial Trophy for hunt teams, along with numerous classes for jumpers and hunters.

HEAD COACH AT HOLY CROSS IS OFF THE STAFF

Capt. McEwan Is Suspended By Head Of Institution

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 10 —(AP)—Captain John J. McEwan, head coach of the Holy Cross football team, has been indefinitely suspended by the Rev. Timothy J. Phelan, S. J., Moderator of Athletics.

Father Phelan, acting on the recommendation of Rev. John M. Fox, S. J., President of the college, last night announced the suspension in a letter to Captain McEwan "on account of your interference with the proper working of our athletic department by an unauthorized though widely published attempt to discharge one of our staff."

Father Phelan declined to discuss the probable duration of the suspension or its effect upon Captain McEwan's future status.

Captain McEwan, whose present three-year contract does not expire until after the close of the 1933 season, also refused comment.

The decision to suspend Captain McEwan marks the first official faculty action on a controversy which burst into flame after the Crusaders' 10 to 7 defeat by Brown when Captain McEwan announced that Bart Sullivan, veteran Holy Cross track coach, could not continue as his trainer.

McEwan claimed he "had maintained and had disobeyed my orders."

Sullivan has been track coach at Holy Cross for 20 years and is popular with alumni and undergraduates.

BEER BY NEXT MONTH NOW CRY OF HAPPY WETS

Modification Of Volstead Act By Congress Is Their Aim

Washington, Nov. 10—(AP)—Exuberant wets are talking hopelessly, still speculatively, of "beer at the December session."

Their confident predictions, repeated by the dries, are bolstered by Tuesday's overwhelming success, national and state, of a party platform flatly promising repeal of constitutional prohibition and modification of the Volstead act.

Then even before all ballots were counted, the beer cause received new impetus from such Democratic leaders as Robinson of Arkansas, the Senate leader, and Harrison of Mississippi, the Senate whip. Their voices added volume to a pre-election forecast of Speaker John N. Garner, Vice-president-elect, that the lame-duck House will vote beer.

Dries countered quickly, denying the election recorded a clear cut prohibition trend. They mentioned the large majorities by which the same Senators and Representatives who met in December, refused to vote beer last spring.

Hoover Question Mark

A question mark to both sides was President Hoover's attitude toward a beer bill. Without his signature the legislation would need two-thirds majority, the same proportion required for action on the Eighteenth Amendment.

Senator Robinson included the constitutional provision with beer when he said he saw "no reason" why the short session should not consider prohibition legislation. Harrison limited his statement to beer, as did Garner and Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, administrator of Pennsylvania, who said he would lead in a Senate that will continue Republican until March.

Chief reliance of the wets in obtaining prohibition action before the new Congress takes hold rested on a belief the lame-duck Congress will follow election trends, on the basis of their own pre-election classifications (no parallel dry laws having been made), they want anti-prohibition majorities mounting figures for both houses of the Seventy-third Congress.

Already over 300 Representatives-elect are listed by them as repealists, while repealists, together with those termed "submissivists" could comprise a Senate majority according to wet polls.

For further evidences of anti-prohibition sentiment, these groups point to votes in nine states Tuesday to repeal their constitutional one dry provisions or state enforcement acts. These were Louisiana, Michigan, New Jersey, California, Washington, Oregon, Colorado, Arizona and North Dakota.

Dry League To Meet

Next week The Anti-Saloon league convenes here at the call of Scott McBride, Superintendent, to analyze election returns and plan an "unending" campaign against prohibition changes.

Among dry leaders commenting on the election was Dr. A. J. Barton, president of the National Conference of Organizations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment. He said modification efforts by the democrats would constitute "an attempt to nullify the Constitution of the United States" and he said Congress "will hardly assume so bold and defiant an attitude."

"The sentiment of the nation is overwhelming against repeal and the nation will arise in solemn and determined protest," Dr. Barton added.

Joseph Shouse, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, said the election was a "overwhelming victory for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment."

WHO'LL BE IN ROOSEVELT CABINET?

Miss Perkins, Baker, Smith Seen in Jobs

By RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Correspondent

Washington. Who's going to be in the new cabinet with the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt as President, that question is being discussed wherever politicians gather. One guess is as good as another.

There seems a strong chance that the nation may have its first woman cabinet member. Miss Frances Perkins, state industrial commissioner in New York, was one of Roosevelt's advisers at Albany and persistent reports place her in the new cabinet as Secretary of Labor.

She first came into prominence in 1911 when she and other militant industrialists started urging safeguards for women workers after the Triangle Shirt Company fire in which scores of girls workers were killed. In 1919 Alfred E. Smith, then Governor of New York, named her to the State Industrial Board and in 1926 she was made chairman of that board. She became industrial commissioner in 1929.

Smith also furnishes a big problem to the political observer who tries to name the new cabinet in advance. His last minutes speeches in behalf of the Democratic ticket—after he had sukked over losing the nomination—reunited him with his old friend, Roosevelt. Would Smith accept a cabinet post? What post?

A SUPER-ADVISER?

His penchant for economy in government is recalled, particularly his success in co-ordinating various state departments when he was Governor of New York. It has been brought out that a new cabinet post might be made for him, a semi-governmental business manager with a full cabinet title. Other observers think he might be made something of a super-cabinet member, a minister without portfolio. The President may have as many members of his cabinet as he desires. The present cabinet posts have been maintained through tradition, rather than necessity.

Owen D. Young seems certain of a cabinet post if he desires one. The originator of the Young Plan on war debts, an internationally recognized authority on finance, one of the nation's great industrialists and financiers, he is amply fitted for cabinet duty. His name has been mentioned for the State Secretaryship, the Treasury and Commerce posts.

Newton D. Baker, war-time Secretary of War, Wilsonian Democrat and one of the nation's leading attorneys, is rather often mentioned for the cabinet. He refused to make a campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination this year, but took an active part in the closing hours of the presidential campaign. He has been mentioned for the State Secretaryship and as Attorney-General. He is an outstanding League of Nations man.

was co-author of the Glass-Steagall bill in the last Congress, often is discussed for the Treasury Secretaryship.

A. P. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, has been mentioned frequently for the labor post. The Cleveland carries much organized labor support.

Bernard M. Baruch, New York banker, has been one of the outstanding Democratic advisers for years. He was prominent in the Wilson administration and has aided Democratic drives consistently since then. An outstanding financier, he frequently is mentioned in connection with the Treasury Secretaryship.

FARLEY IS "IN"

Melvin A. Trowler, a Chicago banker who stepped aside in the Chicago convention to permit nomination of Roosevelt, also is mentioned for the Treasury Secretaryship and Commerce post.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, prosecutor of the oil scandals and permanent chairman of the last Democratic national convention, is another often mentioned for cabinet honors. His name frequently is brought up for the Attorney Generalship.

James A. Farley, who guided Roosevelt to the nomination and then brought the Democratic victory as chairman of the national committee, seems certain of cabinet honors—possibly the Postmaster Generalship.

AND MANY OTHERS

The names of several westerners have been brought up, mainly in connection with the Interior and Agriculture posts. Among these are Governor Harry Woodring of Kansas, an early Roosevelt supporter; J. Bruce Kremer, Democratic national committeeman from Montana; Governor George Dern of Utah; Senator Key Pittman of Nevada.

There are many other names from which Roosevelt might fill out his cabinet. These include: Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana; Frank L. Polk, former Undersecretary of State, from New the United States arms delegation, former foreign loan adviser of the Treasury Department and former Undersecretary of State. He is head of the Woodrow Wilson foundation; Sumner Welles, a close friend of Roosevelt and one time State Department worker.

Prof. Felix Frankfurter of Harvard University; Prof. Raymond Moley of Columbia University who has been one of Roosevelt's close advisers during the campaign; Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York.

Senator John S. Cohen of Georgia, Democratic national committeeman and newspaper publisher; Governor O. Max Gardner of North Carolina; former Governor Harry F. Byrd of Virginia; William Gibbs McAdoo, former Treasury Secretary, who swung the Garnerpledged California delegation to Roosevelt at Chicago.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — At a time when most holders of ambassadorships and ministerial positions in Uncle Sam's diplomatic service were wondering what the future had in store for them, Ferdinand Lamot Belin was just getting his portfolio as envoy to Poland and setting out for Warsaw.

But the possibility that the sartorially elegant, wealthy and extremely "correct" new ambassador might have to tender his resignation on next March 4th, caused him little worry.

Belin is a career diplomat, and since 1917, has been a familiar figure in many capitals.

JOB TO HIS LIKING

As American ambassador to Poland his job should be very much to his liking.

Belin's wealth is sufficient to keep the American embassy in Warsaw on the highest plane.

But perhaps there is a deeper significance in the Belin appointment. Although he is a career diplomat, at the time of his appointment as ambassador, he had retired to private life. Twice he has resigned from the diplomatic service only to be called back again.

His first resignation came after the London naval arms conference in 1930. He was out only for a short while, however, before he was back at the state department as chief protocol and ceremonial officer. He quit that post the next year.

IMPORTANT POST—

There are at least two possible reasons why a career man was selected on the eve of a presidential election for the Warsaw post.

The first is the next few months might see significant developments on the troublesome question of the Polish Corridor.

Then, too, the fact that Poland is on the Russian border makes it a highly strategic position for this country. The United States, although refusing to recognize the Soviets, nevertheless apparently keeps an eye on them. A trained observer, such as Belin, might be of great help at Warsaw.

ROOSEVELT NOW BACK ON JOB AS STATE EXECUTIVE

Denies He'll Resign As Governor Of New York State

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Hurriedly glancing through piles of telegrams congratulating him on his election to the presidency, Governor Roosevelt took up today the tasks of the Chief Executive of New York and with his budget officer went to work on the immediate problems of state financing.

Mr. Roosevelt motored yesterday from New York where he received returns from the national referendum that designated him the occupant of the White House after next.

He drove into Albany last night March 4.

Unnoticed and reached the Executive Mansion without the Capital being aware he had returned.

The Governor slept as his motor car sped up the Hudson river through a fall rain. He retired as soon as he reached the mansion.

"Good night," he called to the correspondents who accompanied him. "You'd better go to bed, you deserve a good, long rest. I'm going to turn in right away and tomorrow we'll get back to being Governor."

En route to Hyde Park where he had supper with his mother, Mr. Roosevelt was given a noisy welcome by his neighbors of Poughkeepsie.

At Hyde Park, another welcoming crowd awaited him in front of his home.

Invites Help
In his first message to the American people, thanking them for their support in Tuesday's election, the President-elect invited their help "in the happy task of restoration."

The message, in pencil, written in his large, scrawly hand-writing, was given out at the Roosevelt 65th Street home in New York City.

"The vote of confidence," he said, was one "that has more than party significance."

"It means, I am sure, that the masses of the people of the nation firmly believe that there is great and actual possibility of an orderly recovery through a well conceived and actively directed plan of action. Such a plan has been presented to you and you have expressed approval."

"This, my friends, is most reassuring. It shows that there is in this country unbounded confidence in the future of sound agriculture and honorable industry. This clear mandate shall not be forgotten. I pledge you this and I invite your help in the happy task of restoration."

Will Not Resign
Mr. Roosevelt said he "never had any thought of resigning" as Governor and turning the post over to his successor, the present Lieutenant Governor, Herbert H. Lehman.

He will, however, commencing tomorrow, seek to make some adjustment in state expenditures to cut down the apparent deficit in operations this year. He also hopes to have next year's budget well shaped up for Mr. Lehman when he takes over the financing task.

Mr. Roosevelt will go to Hyde Park Friday night and remain there until Monday night, he said. "Just resting and taking things easy."

There will be no political conferences over the week-end, he added, and laughed away a suggestion that "perhaps you'll soon begin looking around for a cabinet."

Mayors' League To Hold Election For Chief Nov. 20th

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The election of the League of Locality Mayors will be held Sunday-a-week; and a three-edged "write-in" movement has assumed such momentum that Chief Mayor A. Stitt McCarthy is perturbed.

Mr. McCarthy has no thought that he won't be re-elected. He would be a poor Chief Mayor, he pointed out today, if he couldn't take care of a little matter like that. Nevertheless his pride is hurt that anyone should even suggest opposition.

The nation at large knows of Mr. McCarthy only by hearsay. This does not disturb Mr. McCarthy, as the nation at large has no vote in the league. It has been suspected by McCarthy that the nation has no true appreciation of the noble work carried on by New York's locality mayors. Just because the mayors are unofficial, get no pay and actually are no different in the political scheme of things than any other citizen is no reason, in the McCarthy mind, to look slightly on their dignity.

But what makes him mad now is this "write-in" movement. "They're three dark horses," said McCarthy. "They are out to beat me, which is silly to begin with. I intend to win this election, even if I have to count the votes myself."

"If they think they can horn in on my racket by having their names written in, they're schlemiels—which is 'saps' to you, cowboy. Just because Joe McKee got his name written in Tuesday in the city mayor's election, these guys have got funny ideas."

"And who are these dark horses? Isadore Pinkowitz, mayor of East Broadway; Murray Abramowitz, mayor of 172nd street; and Abe Haimowitz, mayor of E. Forsythe street."

"Imagine that! Pinkowitz, Abramowitz, Haimowitz! Swell chance them schlemiels got of having their names written in! Why, the other mayors couldn't spell those names! No sir! Not even if they could write!"

Gate receipts of the game will be turned over to Mansfield.

Notre Dame Is Not Out To Win 'em All
South Bend, Ind., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Notre Dame football teams and coaches aren't expected to win all their games, the Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, president of the University said today in denying reports that a change in athletic policy was contemplated.

"Our share of victories is all we can expect," Father O'Donnell said. "Our schedule should contain games in which our opponents have a sporting chance to defeat us. That is what we seek and therefore we must expect defeats."

GALSWORTHY HAS BEEN VOTED RICH LITERATURE PRIZE

British Novelist Won the Nobel Award For Current Year

Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The 1932 Nobel prize for literature was bestowed today upon John Galsworthy, the British novelist.

The author of "The Forsythe Sage" had been mentioned in newspaper predictions as the probable recipient of the award.

Last year's prize was won by Erik A. Karlfeldt of Sweden. Sinclair Lewis, who received the prize in 1930, was the first American to be so honored.

Since 1902 when the prizes were established under the will of Alfred B. Nobel, Swedish Scientist who invented dynamite, only two other Englishmen have won the award for literature, Rudyard Kipling in 1907 and George Bernard Shaw in 1925.

Galsworthy, now 65, published his first novel, "Jocelyn" in 1898 under the nom de plume of John Simjohn. It was not till 1904 that he attracted general attention with "The Island of Pharos," the first of a series of novels dealing with problems of the social world.

The most famous of his works, of course, are those comprising the Forsythe series which trace the fictional history of the Forsythe family in England and America.

Is Dramatist Also
He also has engaged successfully in the drama, a field in which his notable productions include "Loyalties" in 1922 and "Old English" in which George Arliss was an outstanding success. He also wrote "Escape" in 1926 and "Exiled" three years later, and a number of other plays.

Tradition credits Galsworthy with launching that other literary immortal, Joseph Conrad.

Forty years ago Galsworthy made a voyage to the south seas on the sailing vessel "Torrens." Conrad was first officer. During the long weeks they talked of writing and Conrad showed his friend a manuscript. It was "Almayer's folly." Galsworthy was delighted. He urged Conrad to continue his writing and in later years they worked together in London.

As he developed, Galsworthy's interest in and connection with America increased. Nearly all his later novels and stories were published simultaneously on both sides of the Atlantic. In 1919 he made a tour of the United States, lecturing on Anglo-American friendship and similar subjects. Later the lectures were published as "addresses in America."

Last year's prize was worth about $31,000.

Compton Hospital

Miss Edith Krahenbuhl who had her hand badly injured in a corn elevator at her home a week ago, at which time it was thought the amputation of the thumb on the left hand was necessary. Miss Krahenbuhl is getting along nicely and it will not be necessary to amputate, which is cheerful news to her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rosenkrans' son of Paw Paw underwent a minor operation at the Compton hospital Sunday morning.

The four-year-old son of L. White of Scarborough had his tonsils removed here at the local hospital during the past week.

MODERN BUNGALOW IN EXPOSITION TO SHOW PROGRESS IN HOME CONSTRUCTION

Above, architects' model showing front view of house with contrast of painted and varnished pressed wood walls; below, rear view showing roof terrace and swinging doors leading from living room to lower terrace; inset, floor plan showing arrangement of rooms.

THE progress that has been made in home construction within the last hundred years will be typified in this modern four-room bungalow being erected in the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition by the Masonite Corporation.

Exterior walls will be one-fourth inch pressed wood over a sheathing of wood fibre structural insulation. A portion of the walls will be painted white and the remainder will be varnished to retain the natural color of the pressed wood.

The flat roof, a portion of which will be closed in to provide a sort of covered terrace, will consist of wood sheathing over structural insulation for strength with a layer of one-eighth inch pressed wood over the sheathing and a covering of waterproofed canvas over this. This construction will permit walking and the use of furniture on any portion of the roof even in the hottest weather.

Interior walls will be of structural insulation covered with wallpaper, plaster, canvas, paint or decorated pressed wood, the finish being different in each room. Floors will be of pressed wood cushioned flooring.

A unique feature is that the height of each room will be in proportion to its size. Another will be an electric current concealed behind the baseboard all around each room so that a lamp or other electrical appliance can be plugged in at any point around the room. Other features will be double-construction glass in doors and windows for insulation and to prevent collection of moisture; window sashes that raise into pockets above the openings; gas-operated heater and air-conditioner in a compact installation beneath the stairs; gas refrigerator and range; and a sink with modern dish-washing equipment.

son demonstrates:

That the term "power trust" is no mere figure of speech, but stands for an ever-increasing concentration of power in a few hands.

That public utility securities have been watered over and over again—not in a few unimportant instances, as the utilities' spokesmen have claimed, but on almost innumerable occasions.

That utilities' profits are not held to 8 per cent, as public authorities require, but often soar to 100 per cent and upward.

That holding companies have repeatedly milked operating companies and have helped to concentrate power and profits among the "insiders."

That practically everything that has been said about the industry's propaganda methods is entirely true.

Much of this book is hard for the layman to follow, but it is abundantly worth the effort.

CITES BIG LIST OF ABUSES IN UTILITIES FIELD

"Confessions of the Power Trust," by Carl D. Thompson, is the most comprehensive indictment yet leveled against the power industry.

It summarizes the high lights of the testimony given before the Federal Trade Commission in its recent investigation, and the bulk of it comes from the power people themselves; and it substantiates practically all of the accusations that such progressives as Senator Norris have been making in the Senate and elsewhere.

Studying the record, Mr. Thomp-
